Britain Sets Multimillion Arms Deal With Egyptians

LONDON (AP) — Britain is negotiating a multimillion dollar arms deal with Egypt but is rejecting some of President Anwar Sadat's requests for weapons deemed offensive.

Government sources, reporting this Thursday, said British readiness to sell arms to Cairo flowed in part from a conviction that Russian military cooperation with Egypt had passed its peak.

"We have no firm evidence to back up reports that Soviet advisers are returning in significant numbers to Egypt," one informant said. "And although the situation is constantly being assessed we have had nothing to show the Soviets are resuming weapons deliveries on any significant scale."

The Foreign Office confirmed by implication that Britain was not prepared to provide a blanket authorization for all Egypt's requirements in the way of guns, rockets, tanks, warplanes and warships.

"The Egyptians have given us an indication of what they want," a spokesman told reporters. "We have told the Egyptians what we would be prepared to supply."

"No further elaboration was offered by the spokesman on grounds that all negotiations for arms sales must remain secret."

British policy generally is to avoid selling weapons that would in London's view upset the military balance in the Arab-Israeli conflict.

But with exceptions of those types the British seem to be only too happy to provide Egypt with medium-range and anti-aircraft missiles, light tanks like the Scorpion, interceptor aircraft and naval vessels that can be portrayed as defensive.

The British in general are taking the view that they are under no obligation at all to withhold weapons from the Egyptians — even highly sophisticated weapons — at a time when Israel is pressing the United States for a wide range of new armament.

Study Points Up Social Security Tax Unfairness

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Brookings Institution study says the Social Security tax not only is rising faster than other federal taxes but also is increasingly unfair to lower income workers.

In an analysis by economist John A. Brittain published by Brookings Thursday, the institution said Social Security, or payroll taxes, urgently need to be reformed so that workers would pay on their ability to contribute.

The 285-page report says the working poor, those earning less than $4,200 a year, currently are paying a Social Security tax of about 13 per cent, even though their earnings are so low they are exempted from paying income tax.

Middle income families also are hard hit, the report says. A married couple with an income of $10,800 next year may pay a higher rate of income tax and Social Security tax combined than a family earning $23,000, it said.

The maximum combined Social Security tax on employers and employees rose from a total of $60 in 1949 to $811 in 1971 and will jump to $1,324 in 1974.

The report said rises in the tax rate have been virtually unchallenged because many taxpayers believe "that their payments are vested in their own names, or at least that the prospective benefits are worth the cost."

"Then, too, the rates seem low in comparison with those of the federal income tax. Most wage earners don't realize how much they are actually paying."

Britain proposed the payroll tax be restructured through exemptions and deductions, such as in income tax, or through the gradual replacement of the payroll tax by the income tax.

Coast Guard Cutter Safe

Towed To Shelter By Japanese Vessel

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Her powerful engines stilled by flooding, the battered Coast Guard cutter Jarvis is safe in a sheltered Aleutian chain inlet today as divers probe hull damage.

The 378-foot, high-endurance cutter and the Japanese fishing trawler that towed her to quiet waters after a nine-hour battle against mountainous North Pacific seas were joined late Thursday by two other Coast Guard vessels carrying repair supplies and needed fresh water.

All four ships were anchored near Sedanka Island, a wind-blown rock sock 20 miles from where the Jarvis, her engine room flooded and her pumping system useless, sent an SOS Thursday morning.

Spokesmen said Navy and Coast Guard divers would help determine what repairs are necessary before the Jarvis can be taken to a repair facility.

The Coast Guard said Jarvis, commissioned only last August as one of the service's newest and largest class of cutters, was showing damage along the entire length of her hull and possibly to her roller shafts.

No decision has been made on where the stricken ship would be taken for repairs. Coast Guard spokesmen said it was assumed the Honolulu-based ship would be towed to port by the two rescue cutters if her jet and diesel engines could not be repaired.

Israelis And Syrians Exchange Heavy Fire

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Syrian gunners exchanged fire today along the Golan Heights frontier, a government communique said. No Israeli casualties were reported.

The shelling erupted a week after Syrian and Israeli jets and artillery duelled in the heaviest fighting since the 1970 cease-fire.

From a crowd of students at the front of the building at an advancing line of officers. The officers answered with tear gas grenades.

After the students had scattered and the smoke had cleared, two young men lay dead on the sidewalk in a pool of blood. It was not known whether the two were Southern students.

Parish Coroner Hypolite Landry, who first said he could not tell whether the two were killed by gunshot or shrapnel, later said they were killed by shotgun fire.

Officials Back Farm Tax Break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan and House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-Perryburg, both assured Ohio farmers Thursday that something would be done about their property tax plight.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that Ohio farms must be taxed on their market value, even if the farms are close to cities where the possibility of commercial development pushes up land values.

Ohio Farm Bureau Federation President Leonard Schnell estimated that the ruling, if it stands, will cost Ohio farmers $40 million more in property taxes than they would have paid if the court had allowed their land to be taxed on its value based on current use.

Gilligan told the federation meeting here Thursday that "the job of correcting the problem can be done through the legislative process or perhaps a constitutional amendment." Schnell said earlier that the federation might consider proposing either a bill to exempt farmers from the market value ruling or a constitutional amendment as Gilligan suggested.

Kurfess said there is a "possibility" that a constitutional amendment could be on the May ballot. "There are times when legislatures don't get the job done until some outside force makes it imperative," Kurfess said, adding that in this case the "outside force" was the court.

Kurfess added that schools, traditionally funded mainly from property taxes which vary from district to district, perhaps ought to get their money from a single uniform statewide property tax. But he said he wasn't sure that was the answer.

Kurfess took the opportunity of his appearance before the federation to criticize Atty.

Gen. William Brown for failing to make the "current use" tax controversy clear to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Kurfess said the legislature had long operated on the principle that property should not be valued for tax purposes at more than half its market value.

"If this is okay — and the court had not struck it down — I can't understand why we can't use current use," Kurfess said.

He added that the "attorney general's office apparently made no pretense of defending the public policy as established by the legislature and thereby led our Supreme Court into further inconsistencies."

An attorney in Brown's office involved with the case noted that Kurfess was addressing the group that sponsored the "current use" interpretation of the tax laws.

"One cannot help but wonder if his remarks should not be viewed as self-serving," he said.

Lake Erie Storm Loss $22 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Nixon is to be asked to declare eight Ohio counties along Lake Erie as disaster areas following severe storms and flooding earlier this week, Gov. John J. Gilligan said today.

The request was filed with the federal Office of Emergency Preparedness and asks disaster status for Lucas, Ottawa, Erie, Lorain, Cuyahoga, Lake, Sandusky and Ashtabula counties, Gilligan said.

Total damage in the lake rim area was estimated at more than $22 million by State Civil Defense office, Gilligan said — $17.8 million to private property, $4.2 million to public facilities.

He said the total damage figure was far above the federal requirement for disaster assistance.

If the president issues the declaration, residents of the area would be eligible for low-cost loans through the Small Business Administration for repair of both houses and commercial buildings. Local government units would be eligible for direct grants for the repair of roads, bridges and other public property.

Gilligan urged President Nixon to act quickly on the disaster status request "so that those Ohioans who were left homeless or who suffered extensive property damage can begin to rebuild."

Cincy Mayoral Change Slated

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Thomas Luken says he will not renounce on his promise to step down Nov. 29 so that Cincinnati will have its first black mayor.

Luken, a Democrat, led all candidates in votes for Cincinnati city council in 1970.

The Democrats, in a coalition with the Charter Party, a locally independent group, wrested control of council from Republicans for the first time in 14 years.

Following the election, the Democrats and the Charterites compromised on a plan for selection of mayor. The mayor is chosen by the nine-member council from one of their number.

Theodore Berry, it was agreed, would serve the final year of the two-year term after Luken.

Russia, China Support Hanoi Call For Speed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger will fly to Paris Sunday to resume Vietnam peace talks Monday with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho, the White House announced today.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen:

"We expect the talks to last for several days—perhaps longer."

The announcement came as Kissinger and President Nixon were holding conferences at Camp David, the presidential retreat near Thurmont, Md.

Ziegler said Kissinger, who is Nixon's assistant for national security affairs, will be accompanied by his deputy, Army Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr., who returned recently from meetings in Saigon with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu.

This will be Kissinger's 21st trip to the French capital for talks with Le Duc Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, and Xuan Thuy, who is Hanoi's principal negotiator at formal peace sessions there.

Kissinger's most recent journey to Paris was on Oct. 17 for a meeting with Thuy. He held ground-breaking sessions with Le Duc Thuy on Oct. 8-11.

In keeping with a promise to give ample advance notice of Kissinger's travel plans, Ziegler said the American negotiators will leave nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at 10 a.m. EST Sunday aboard a Boeing 707 jet from the presidential fleet.

They are due at Orly Airport in Paris at 10:30 a.m. Paris time.

Ziegler said the party will stay at the U.S. ambassador's residence but he would not disclose the site of Kissinger's private talks with Le Duc Tho, who arrived in Paris today.

In a formal statement, Ziegler said:

"The negotiations between Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, assistant to the President for national security affairs, and special adviser Le Duc Tho will be resumed in Paris on Nov. 20."

Soviets Want Bigger American Donation, Not Less

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States' drive to get its U.N. budget assessment cut from 31.52 to 25 per cent has produced a Soviet-American confrontation in the old Cold War style.

U.S. Ambassador George Bush clashed with Soviet Ambassador Vasily Safonchuk soon after Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., opened the drive Thursday in the General Assembly's budget committee.

McGee, introducing a resolution to reduce the U.S. assessment "as soon as practicable," promised that U.S. contributions to U.N. voluntary programs would continue high.

Safonchuk announced that he would vote against the resolution and said the wealthiest country's assessment should be based on the traditional yardstick of per capita income. He said this would make it 33.4 per cent.

The Russian said that the United States also got more out of the voluntary programs than it put into them because they bought things in this country. For example, the U.N. Children's Fund spent $27 million a year in the United States and got only a $24 million U.S. contribution.

Bush, red-faced, shook his finger and demanded, "Are you proposing, sir, that we cut off all support to UNICEF? I think this is selfish thinking."

He said that for the typical year 1970, the United States contributed 40 per cent of all the money paid into both assessed and voluntary U.N. funds, while the Soviet Union contributed only 7 per cent.

"When the U.S.S.R. lectures my country on who does what to help, please keep in mind these figures," Bush exclaimed.

2 Die; Southern Louisiana Campus Closed

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards says he will not negotiate with students at Southern University, where two young blacks died in a confrontation with police, until they renounce violence and return peacefully to classes.

Several hundred students occupied the administration building at the nation's largest predominantly black university Thursday and refused to leave at the request of sheriff's deputies and state police. Officials said the clash was not racially motivated.

A smoke bomb was thrown from a crowd of students at the front of the building at an advancing line of officers. The officers answered with tear gas grenades.

After the students had scattered and the smoke had cleared, two young men lay dead on the sidewalk in a pool of blood. It was not known whether the two were Southern students.

Parish Coroner Hypolite Landry, who first said he could not tell whether the two were killed by gunshot or shrapnel, later said they were killed by shotgun fire.

Officers said they never fired a gun shot, only tear gas, but witnesses said they heard shots popping through the smoke and confusion.

Chief Deputy Gene Rives of East Baton Rouge Parish said early today his men were using hand-thrown tear gas grenade and tear gas projectiles fired from special grenade launchers.

He said his men were also armed with shotguns and carried live shotgun ammunition, but "no sheriff's deputy fired a weapon."

Rives said he had looked at television films of the confrontation five times and at no time could he discern a weapon being fired.

State Police spokesman were not available for comment.

Sheriff Al Amis said his men heard pistol fire coming from the students lined in front of the administration building.

Fires broke out in two campus buildings, causing extensive damage, and a bomb exploded in another building later in the day.

Edwards ordered 500 National Guardsmen onto the campus and placed all of East Baton Rouge Parish (County) in a state of emergency. The campus was closed until after Thanksgiving.

Edwards, who had considerable black support in his election campaign last year, emphasized that the trouble was not racial.

"There aren't white people involved against black people," he told a late afternoon news conference Thursday. "It's a situation which involves a black administration and a black university, and involves black students."

The violence followed three weeks of unrest at Southern's 9,100-student main campus in Baton Rouge and a smaller branch campus in New Orleans.

Officials Back Farm Tax Break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan and House Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Perryburg, both assured Ohio farmers Thursday that something would be done about their property tax plight.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that Ohio farms must be taxed on their market value, even if the farms are close to cities where the possibility of commercial development pushes up land values.

Ohio Farm Bureau Federation President Leonard Schnell estimated that the ruling, if it stands, will cost Ohio farmers $40 million more in property taxes than they would have paid if the court had allowed their land to be taxed on its value based on current use.

Gilligan told the federation meeting here Thursday that "the job of correcting the problem can be done through the legislative process or perhaps a Schnell said earlier that the federation might consider proposing either a bill to exempt farmers from the market value ruling or a constitutional amendment as Gilligan suggested.

Kurfess said there is a "possibility" that a constitutional amendment could be on the May ballot.

Lake Erie Storm Loss $22 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — President Nixon is to be asked to declare eight Ohio counties along Lake Erie as disaster areas following severe storms and flooding earlier this week, Gov. John J. Gilligan said today.

The request was filed with the federal Office of Emergency Preparedness and asks disaster status for Lucas, Ottawa, Erie, Lorain, Cuyahoga, Lake Sandusky and Ashtabula counties, Gilligan said.

Total damage in the lake rim area was estimated at more than $22 million by State Civil Defense office, Gilligan said — $17.8 million to private property, $4.2 million to public facilities.

He said the total damage figure was far above the federal requirement for disaster assistance.

Cabinet Room Redecoration Planned With Private Cash

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Remember those expensive oriental rugs and chandelier for Gov. John Gilligan's cabinet room that caused such a hullabaloo last year?

Well, they're being planned again—but this time with private money.

The costs are being underwritten by the Ohio Commodores, a group of businessmen who have been honored by the governor for their contributions to the state.

The businessmen have organized a committee to refurbish the cabinet room and plan to spend some $60,000 restoring dignity and style to the handsome old room.

Gilligan started to do it last year at state expense. Arrangements had been made for the oriental rugs and chandelier, plus general refurbishing at an initial cost of $22,000.

But then the storm broke. Newspaper stories reported the plans and noted they coincided with Gilligan's pre-income tax austerity program. Republicans had a field day at the governor's expense and the deal was called off.

A member of the refurbishing committee, William Menich of Columbus, said the Commodores had taken on the project because the cabinet room is "one hell of a mess."

He said the committee would raise the funds for the new furnishings, which will be purchased by the Ohio Historical Society and placed on a permanent loan to the cabinet room.

Historical Society Director Daniel Porter said the cabinet room has deteriorated into a "rat hole."

Bush, red-faced, shook his finger and demanded, "Are you proposing, sir, that we cut off all support to UNICEF? I think this is selfish thinking."

He said that for the typical year 1970, the United States contributed 49 per cent of all the money paid into both assessed and voluntary U.N. funds, while the Soviet Union contributed only 7 per cent.

"When the U.S.S.R. lectures my country on who does what to help, please keep in mind these figures," Bush exclaimed.

Auditor, Secretary Of State Want Posts To Stay Elective

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — To make the state auditor and secretary of state appointive offices would give too much power to the executive branch of government, a constitutional study group was told Thursday.

"The auditor should be free to administer his office without the interference of an appointing officer," said Auditor Joseph Ferguson.

Assistant Secretary of State George Farris said he did not think "the responsibility over elections should be under the governor. I don't think you should give one man too big of a club."

Both testified before the Executive-Legislative Study Committee of the Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission.

The group is looking into a proposal to change the Ohio Constitution so that the governor would appoint the auditor, treasurer, secretary of state and attorney general. All now are elected.

Treasurer Gertrude Donahay and Atty. Gen. William Brown went on record earlier as being against the proposal.

CROP Walk Explained To Services Unit

Twenty-three members and guests of Pickaway County Community Services heard the Rev. Roy Osborn speak at the Nov. 13 meeting. The monthly luncheon was held at noon at St. Phillip's Parish House.

The decision, released today, was reached Wednesday night in closed hearing by board members Bill Stout, Lucile Dumm, Ned H. Dresbach and Delbert Remy. Also present were Sheriff Dwight Radcliff, prosecutor Richard Gerhardt, and presiding judges and machine operators at Harrison-East voting precinct and Circleville-North voting precinct.

In both cases, presiding judges notified the board of elections immediately and proper alterations were made.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Should Son Visit Dad In Prison?

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 40-year-old woman, but there are times when I feel like 16, and then again I feel like 100.

My ex-husband has been in prison for four years. We have a son, 12 years old, and they love one another even though they have been separated since the boy was eight.

My family (parents, sisters, and brothers) think I am wrong to take our son to visit his father in prison. They say when the boy sees how easy the law is on criminals, he might decide it's not such a bad life after all.

All I know is, prison life doesn't look easy to me. Besides, it does so much for my ex-husband's morale when he sees the boy, I hate to discontinue those visits. My son looks forward to seeing his father, too.

I'll leave it up to you, Abby. Should I listen to my family or not? My present husband says I should take the boy to visit his dad and to tell my family to mind their own business.

UNDECIDED
DEAR ABBY: I like your husband's attitude. That's exactly what I would have advised you to do.

DEAR ABBY: My poor sweet, young daughter-in-law is half out of her mind because our son has left her.

Why did he leave her? Because she continually checked up on him and nagged him. Well, why wouldn't she check up on him? He is never where he says he will be, and she has caught him with other women several times. And she nags him because she loves him and doesn't want him running around with other women.

This lovely, intelligent daughter-in-law is crazy about our son, and he loved her, too, before she started nagging him. Now she wants to call him up and apologize for having nagged him and checked up on him. I told her she was nuts and she should have thrown him out a long time ago.

He tried to tell her that 95 per cent of the married men cheated on their wives—it's natural because men like a change. My husband who works in an all male business took a survey and found out that only 20 per cent of the married men cheated on their wives!

Abby, what do you think she should do? Even if he is our son, I think she should lock him out for good.

MISSOURI MOTHER IN LAW
DEAR ABBY: I think your daughter in law should quit discussing her marital problems with you. She needs some professional objective advice from an impartial party. Since she hasn't asked for my advice, I'll not offer any. But I think you should bow out.

DEAR ABBY: I am not writing this just for myself. I am writing it for all the fat girls in the world, because I am sure they all feel the same way.

When I start liking a guy, I am told I don't stand a chance because I am fat. Okay, I'm fat, and I know it, but why should that make such a big difference to a guy? I think personality, character, and what a person is really like on the inside is what is important.

Maybe guys are embarrassed to be seen with a fat girl, but if he really loves her her looks shouldn't make that much difference. Beauty is only skin deep, you know.

FAT AND LONELY

DEAR ABBY: It's true, "Looks" are not as important as personality and character, but most people are attracted to those whose appearance they find pleasing. It's unfortunate that so many worthwhile people are not approached and drawn out because of their "looks." But since it's a fact, why not accept it and do something about it?

"A New Platform" will be the topic of the sermon by the Rev. Henry Walters 10:20 a.m. Sunday. Saturday the junior high W.F. will have a hayride and wiener roast. Members are to meet at the church 6:30 p.m. Saturday. The board of trustees will meet 8 p.m. Monday in the church lounge.

'Colonel Klink' Proves He's Musician
DETROIT (AP) — Werner Klemperer, best known for his role as the bumbling Colonel Klink in the television series "Hogan's Heroes," conducted the Detroit symphony and received cries of "bravo" from the musicians for his efforts.

Klemperer, son of German conductor Otto Klemperer, was invited to wield the baton Wednesday by symphony conductor Sixten Ehrling after the actor showed up at a rehearsal with a score.

Woman Truck Inspector Finds Most Drivers Nice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 25-year-old girl with long light brown hair blowing in the autumn breeze is flagging down trucks on some Ohio interstate highways.

Hitchhiker? Huh-uh. Inspector.

She's Roseann Flesch of Columbus, the first woman inspector for the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio in history, perhaps the first in the nation.

She makes dozens of safety and economic checks on trucks — inspecting log books, checking for tax decals and license plates and ticking off safety regulations.

"You should be home taking care of a husband and kids like a woman's supposed to," snarled one trucker nailed by Miss Flesch for lack of a log book.

But, that was an exception. Ordinarily, the pioneer woman inspector gets along fine with the truck jockeys.

"Sometimes they ask me to go on to Las Vegas with them, even after I arrest them," she said. "They're nice. They ask me to go for dinner."

Miss Flesch knows truckers.

Her father was a driver for Kroger. She worked as a clerk in the tariff and insurance department of PUCO, but she wanted to do something more exciting.

She went into training for PUCO inspector for a month, both in the office and on the job. Her debut as inspector came on Interstate 70 near London, Ohio.

Gov. John J. Gilligan sent Miss Flesch a congratulatory note. He commended her for "determination and ability which led her to pursue an occupation which hopefully would unlock the doors to many positions currently dominated by one sex because of tradition."

John T. Gordon, PUCO director of transportation, is so pleased with Miss Flesch's enthusiasm he said he hopes to add another female to inspector staff soon.

One thing PUCO officials hope will stem from Miss

Flesch's ground-breaking work, that "she'll cut the belligerent factor in half."

Man's Good Name Needs Defended

WARRENTON, Ore. (AP) — In public school, most of his time was occupied defending his good name — with his fists.

"My nose used to take on a new shape every week."

In the Marine Corps, same thing.

"There were some good fights . . . very lively affairs."

Today, patrons of his seafood restaurant in this Oregon coastal town still find it difficult to stop a giggle when addressing him.

But it doesn't bother him anymore. And through it all he's never considered changing his name.

"Ure A. Pigg is who I am. If I started all over again I would still want to be me — Ure A. Pigg."

Four fans of professional football, holders of season tickets to Philadelphia Eagles games, have found a new way to show their disgust with a winless team. They have filed suit in court demanding refunds on the balance of their tickets on grounds of misrepresentation.

Quotas For Colleges

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The private colleges and universities of America are discovering they are all under the gun. The ones that have accepted government subsidies have been receiving ominous warnings from Washington that they are expected to change their procedures to give arbitrary ethnic balance both to their faculties and their student bodies. This would seem to exempt institutions such as Dr. John Howard's Rockford College in Illinois and Dr. George Roche's Hillsdale College in Michigan, which have never accepted Federal or state money. Yet even the 100 per cent "pure" private schools see the handwriting on the wall. They fear they can be whipped into line by having their tax exemption removed.

Early in December representatives of some 150 independent colleges and universities will meet at Scottsdale, Ariz., to consider ways of fighting what Washington threatens to do to them. The government has spoken only of requiring "affirmative action plans" to achieve "goals" of better ethnic and sex balance, which is pleasingly indefinite. However, the AAPICU (the American Association of Presidents of Independent Colleges and Universities) is not fooled. When the government speaks of "goals" it means quotas.

The November rejection of George McGovern, who symbolized the drive for quotas might cause President Nixon to rescind Lyndon Johnson's old executive order that requires institutions taking more than $50,000 from the government and employing 50 or more people to come up with balanced racial and sex hiring plans. But as Nixon waits to ponder what resignations to Today is Friday, Nov. 17, the 322nd day of 1972. There are 44 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1558, Elizabeth I became Queen of England.

On this date: In 1604, Sir Walter Raleigh was tried for treason and imprisoned in England.

In 1776, British troops led by Lord Cornwallis attacked Ft. Lee in New Jersey.

In 1800, the U.S. Congress convened for the first time in the new Capitol Building in Washington.

In 1869, the Suez Canal was opened, linking the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea.

In 1881, Samuel Gompers organized a labor group which was the forerunner of the American Federation of Labor.

In 1948, Britain's House of Commons voted to nationalize the nation's steel industry.

Dear Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of those who helped to make our 1972 CROP walk possible. Our thanks go first of all to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Salyers, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Goode, and Mr. Brent Rhoads for allowing us use of their properties for rest stops along the route; Mrs. George Huskey, Mr. Burton Kirkman and ladies of react rescue for signing checkpoint cards; the Sheriff's department for their guidance; the police department for their cooperation; Mr. and Mrs. John Kochensparger for making available to use a restroom stop; to Mr. Leroy Newlon, caretaker at the fairgrounds for allowing us to begin our journey from there; to Harold Hewitt for use of the YMCA; and to react rescue for their invaluable time and patience. We can never thank these people enough.

Secondly, we would like to thank the three men who helped organize this year's march. Pastor Charles Hemming and Pastor Roy Osborn could be seen leading the group along the route. They also served the various committee chairmen as constant guides and resources. We also extend to Rev. David Allardice, overall chairman, our thanks for all his efforts along with our sympathy in the death of his father which prevented his being with us.

I apologize for an indelicate question, but I have had severe itching around the rectal area. I'm ashamed to bring it to the attention of my doctor, even though my distress is sometimes unbearable.

Mr. W. L. Tenn.

No part of the body should connote a sense of shame. The area of the rectum and the anus is susceptible to many disorders which by mature people, are brought to the attention of their doctors as readily as are diseases anywhere else in the body.

Hemorrhoids, anal fissures, and infections certainly must be treated if symptoms are to be relieved.

The condition you describe is known as "pruritus ani." There are many causes, all of which must be ruled out before a diagnosis is made.

Infections, and intestinal parasites such as pinworm, may be the cause. Allergies, irritating soaps and clothing, and poor hygiene can be factors, too.

Pruritus ani may also be a symptom of some underlying general condition.

Total examination is necessary to rule out these as possible causes.

For simple itching, good local hygiene is important, followed with dusting powder after thorough drying of the skin.

Over-the-counter medication must be avoided. Sometimes these tend to irritate the skin and make it more susceptible to secondary infection.

Most important is that you learn that there is no "shame" about this annoying, and not unusual, condition.

I am not a bleeder, but I am worried. I have been advised to go to the hospital for the removal of a cyst of the ovary.

Will they test me for bleeding before the operation?

Mrs. H. F. N.C.

Dear Mrs. F.: You have not indicated if there is any valid reason for your anxiety about bleeding. Surely you would have known by now if you had a bleeding tendency.

Before any surgery is performed, major or minor, complete blood studies are made to rule out any possibilities of unusual blood conditions.

Tests are made for coagulation, bleeding, and clotting, in addition to other routine studies of the blood. You can be certain that your doctors would not undertake any surgery without these important tests.

You will gain added assurance if you discuss this with your surgeon.

Why would a child of ten grind her teeth at night? We hear her during the night. We hate to wake her for fear of depriving her of her sleep.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A group of Kansas City leaders hopes soon to bring a larger share of the traditionally coastal foreign trade business to the midst of inland America.

The key to their plan is an old but comparatively unpublicized concept — a foreign trade zone.

There are critics who contend the idea offers little that can't be accomplished through other means such as bonded warehouses. But its supporters here, some of whom have already staked a good bit of money on the plan, tout it as a potentially powerful tool for stimulating economic growth.

"It's a complicated concept which many people don't understand," says Marshall Miller, secretary and general counsel for Greater Kansas City Foreign Trade Zone Inc., a nonprofit corporation which is seeking government authorization to begin a zone here by Jan. 1.

"In my travels I don't think I've run into more than half a dozen companies that knew anything about it. But the savings for companies can be enormous."

In simplest terms, a foreign trade zone is a U.S. Customs no man's land — an area where items of foreign origin, whether raw materials, parts or finished goods, can be stored, displayed or processed duty-free under customs supervision. The duty is not paid until an item is brought out of the zone for delivery or sale.

Miller says this offers several advantages to the firms involved, including:

—Freeing money previously tied up unproductively in duty paid on merchandise that is not ready for sale. For one company that would take part in the Kansas City zone, Miller notes, that amounts to a daily average of $100,000.

—Providing for ready availability of imported goods for distribution and display.

—Permitting shrinkage, evaporation and waste which occur during processing and storage to take place before payment of the duty.

—Allowing the importer, in the case of goods containing both foreign and U.S.-made parts, to pick the lower of two duties, either on the finished product or on only those parts of it, which originated outside the country.

Meanwhile, the zone brings obvious economic benefits to the area in which it is situated, Miller says.

Some 200 foreign trade zones already are operating around the world. The United States has several, in port cities such as New York, San Francisco, Seattle, New Orleans and Toledo, and in Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Miller says the big difference is that the zone here — unlike any of the others in the nation — would be funded and operated privately rather than through local government.

A private operation is in the best position to put imagination and full promotion into a zone he maintains. Under cities' port authorities, he says, "foreign trade zones have never been fully developed."

Why Kansas City? For one thing Miller points to highly developed transportation facilities — despite the absence of an ocean — which will be increased in a few months with the opening of an international airport.

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas is memorable because of what you don't get as well as what you don't want.

I'd like my Christmas made more memorable this year that way — by what I don't get.

It isn't that I lack the yuletide spirit. I love to get a present I can use — such as a pair of warm gloves size 10, a conservative shirt with a regular collar, size 16½-33, or a half dozen linen handkerchiefs, large nose size.

But it is a problem for me to get things I can't use — such as a pen stand with a broken imitation marble base, an inflatable two-man plastic submarine, or a copy of the Venus de Milo done in anthracite coal.

For one thing, they are usually too big to throw down the apartment house incinerator. For another thing, you can't give them away easily. If you get a gift that isn't useful to you, the odds are that it won't be useful to anyone else you know.

In the old days you could palm off these gifts on the janitor, and he would feign a look of gratitude. But not today. Most apartment house superintendents, as they are now called, aren't so easily gulled into hauling such debris away. Many refuse to accept a present of any kind from a tenant unless it is wrapped with a $10 bill, and that's a pretty stiff price to pay just to dispose of something someone has foisted on you in the name of seasonal good will.

One wonders why so many people go to so much trouble to buy things for other people that no one on earth could possibly find joy use or gratitude in. Could Christmas be schizophrenic? Are people unconsciously trying to punish rather than reward each other?

So, whoever you are, if you've decided to send me something for Christmas, don't make it a portrait of Adolf Hitler in needlepoint, an album of nude Santa Claus sketches or a framed crayon drawing made by your grandchild, the one who is flunking in kindergarten.

And even if you've decided to be big about it and send me a new sports car, be sure it has whitewall tires or you'll get it back by return freight.

Call me churlish if you will, but I don't want to get any more things I don't want.

ual who buys a ticket to a performance of any kind have an inherent right to something better than an uninspiring show?

The question reaches far beyond professional football. Does a person who buys a postal stamp have the right to expect the letter to which it is affixed will be delivered within a reasonable time? Does a voter have a recourse if the choices offered him at the polls do not meet his minimum expectations?

Or is it simply enough that the players played, the letter was delivered and an election was held? Chances are good that will be the legal determination. Any other would invite chaos.

I apologize for an indelicate question, but I have had severe itching around the rectal area. I'm ashamed to bring it to the attention of my doctor, even though my distress is sometimes unbearable.

Mr. W. L., Tenn.

Dear Mr. L.: No part of the body should connote a sense of shame. The area of the rectum and the anus is susceptible to many disorders which by mature people, are brought to the attention of their doctors as readily as are diseases anywhere else in the body.

Hemorrhoids, anal fissures, and infections certainly must be treated if symptoms are to be relieved.

The condition you describe is known as "pruritis ani." There are many causes, all of which must be ruled out before a diagnosis is made.

Infections, and intestinal parasites such as pinworms, may be the cause. Allergies, irritating soaps and clothing, and poor hygiene can be factors, too.

Pruritis ani may also be a symptom of some underlying general condition.

Total examination is necessary to rule out these as possible causes.

For simple itching, good local hygiene is important, followed with dusting powder after thorough drying of the skin.

Over-the-counter medication must be avoided. Sometimes these tend to irritate the skin and make it more susceptible to secondary infection.

Most important is that you learn that there is no "shame" about this annoying, and not unusual, condition.

I am not a bleeder, but I am worried. I have been advised to go to the hospital for the removal of a cyst of the ovary.

Will they test me for bleeding before the operation?

Mrs. H. F. N.C.

You have not indicated if there is any valid reason for your anxiety about bleeding. Surely you would have known by now if you had a bleeding tendency.

Before any surgery is performed, major or minor, complete blood studies are made to rule out any possibilities of unusual blood conditions.

Tests are made for coagulation, bleeding, and clotting, in addition to other routine studies of the blood. You can be certain that your doctors would not undertake any surgery without these important tests.

You will gain added assurance if you discuss this with your surgeon.

Why would a child of ten grind her teeth at night? We hear her during the night. We hate to wake her for fear of depriving her of her sleep.

Mrs. T. O., Del.

Dear Mrs. O.: "Bruxism" is the technical term for grinding the teeth. Emotional tension is said to be one of the basic causes for this

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A group of Kansas City leaders hopes soon to bring a larger share of the traditionally coastal foreign trade business to the midst of inland America.

The key to their plan is an old but comparatively unpublicized concept — a foreign trade zone.

There are critics who contend the idea offers little that can't be accomplished through other means such as bonded warehouses. But its supporters here, some of whom have already staked a good bit of money on the plan, tout it as a potentially powerful tool for stimulating economic growth.

"It's a complicated concept which many people don't understand," says Marshall Miller, secretary and general counsel for Greater Kansas City Foreign Trade Zone Inc., a nonprofit corporation which is seeking government authorization to begin a zone here by Jan. 1.

"In my travels I don't think I've run into more than half a dozen companies that knew anything about it. But the savings for companies can be enormous."

In simplest terms, a foreign trade zone is a U.S. Customs no man's land — an area where items of foreign origin, whether raw materials, parts or finished goods, can be stored, displayed or processed duty-free under customs supervision. The duty is not paid until an item is brought out of the zone for delivery or sale.

Miller says this offers several advantages to the firms involved, including:

—Freeing money previously tied up unproductively in duty paid on merchandise that is not ready for sale. For one company that would take part in the Kansas City zone, Miller notes, that amounts to a daily average of $100,000.

—Providing for ready availability of imported goods for distribution and display.

—Permitting shrinkage, evaporation and waste which occur during processing and storage to take place before payment of the duty.

—Allowing the importer, in the case of goods containing both foreign and U.S.-made parts, to pick the lower of two duties, either on the finished product or on only those parts of it, which originated outside the country.

Meanwhile, the zone brings obvious economic benefits to the area in which it is situated, Miller says.

Some 200 foreign trade zones already are operating around the world. The United States has several, in port cities such as New York, San Francisco, Seattle, New Orleans and Toledo, and in Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Miller says the big difference is that the zone here — unlike any of the others in the nation — would be funded and operated privately rather than through local government.

A private operation is in the best position to put imagination and full promotion into a zone he maintains. Under cities' port authorities, he says, "foreign trade zones have never been fully developed."

Why Kansas City? For one thing Miller points to highly developed transportation facilities — despite the absence of an ocean — which will be increased in a few months with the opening of an international airport.

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas is memorable because of what you don't get as well as what you do want.

I'd like my Christmas made more memorable this year that way — by what I don't get.

It isn't that I lack the yuletide spirit. I love to get a present I can use — such as a pair of warm gloves size 10, a conservative shirt with a regular collar, size 16 1/2-33, or a half dozen linen handkerchiefs, large nose size.

But it is a problem for me to get things I can't use — such as a pen stand with a broken imitation marble base, an inflatable two-man plastic submarine, or a copy of the Venus de Milo done in anthracite coal.

For one thing, they are usually too big to throw down the apartment house incinerator. For another thing, you can't give them away easily. If you get a gift that isn't useful to you, the odds are that it won't be useful to anyone else you know.

In the old days you could palm off these gifts on the janitor, and he would feign a look of gratitude. But not today.

Most apartment house superintendents, as they are now called, aren't so easily gulled into hauling such debris away. Many refuse to accept a present of any kind from a tenant unless it is wrapped with a $10 bill, and that's a pretty stiff price to pay just to dispose of something someone has foisted on you in the name of seasonal good will.

One wonders why so many people go to so much trouble to buy things for other people that no one on earth could possibly find joy use or gratitude in. Could Christmas be schizophrenic?

Are people unconsciously trying to punish rather than reward each other?

So, whoever you are, if you've decided to send me something for Christmas, don't make it a portrait of Adolf Hitler in needledress, an album of nude Santa Claus sketches or a framed crayon drawing made by your grandchild, the one who is flunking in kindergarten.

And even if you've decided to be big about it and send me a new sports car, be sure it has whitewall tires or you'll get it back by return freight.

Call me churlish if you will, but I don't want to get any more things I don't want.

Hunters may still have time before taking to the field to read up on how to prepare and cook game. In "Game and Fish From Field to Table," Ray Wall gives detailed instructions for dressing and caring for all kinds of game, large and small, birds and waterfowl, frogs, turtles and all types of fish. The author emphasizes the proper care and preparation of game in the field. Mr. Wall contends that there is no mystery to game cookery if the animal has been properly prepared after the kill. So, if the fried rabbit with cream gravy, or squirrel stew with dumplings, or ragout of muskrat do not meet expectations, the fault may be the hunter's not the cook's. The book also includes tips on selecting a campsite, making campfires, provisions for the hunt and proper cooking utensils. The author has a final word for those who follow all his instructions carefully, and still find the dishes distasteful. Perhaps, modern man has lost his taste for wild game.

A variety of new fiction has come in this week. "Supernatural Cats" by Claire Necker is a collection of forty-six unusual stories about cats that are psychic, avenging, grateful, nightmarish, and re-incarnate. This volume may have more appeal for horror story readers than for cat lovers.

"Flight One" by Charles Carpentier will appeal to readers who liked "Airport." In this novel, the first coast-to-coast SST airliner trip brings crew and passengers into a dramatic situation, plagued with chaos and disaster.

Clifton Adams has a new mystery story entitled, "Concannon." Railroad Detective Concannon has a tough job ahead of him. One hundred thousand dollars in company money has been lost. His best friend has been killed in the robbery, leaving a beautiful widow who still loves her husband. "Journey Into Stone" by Audrey E. Lindop, is a story of mayhem, sadism and murder. There is an eccentric cast and a detective hero who gambles his whole career working on this extraordinary case.

What happens when a business man, just turned forty, meets up with a hippie couple hiding out after a theft is the subject of a new suspense story, "Over The Edge" by David Westheimer.

For western fans, Cliff Farrell has a new book, "Patchsaddle Drive." Trail Boss Clay Burnet is having a rough time leading a cattle drive through the desert into Indian country. When they are attacked by Indians, it looks like the end of the trail for the Patchsaddle crew.

Leon Hale in "Bonneys Place" has written of Bonney J. McCamey who opened a beer joint with $15,000 he had conned from an old man. Upon the old man's death, his son tracks down Bonney to charge him with the robbery. Confronted by Bonney's roguish morality, he questions his own values and ideals.

In "Waiting Sands" by Susan Howatch, a birthday celebration at a lonely house in Northern Scotland turns into a Gothic nightmare for Rachel Lord. Also set in Scotland is a long, engrossing novel by Robert Crichton author of "The Secret of Santa Vittoria." "The Camerons" is the story of a family through twenty years of eventful living and loving in a poor Scottish mining town at the turn of the century.

Other new novels include: "The Persian Boy," sequel to "Fire From Heaven" by Mary Renault; "The Wilby Conspiracy" by Peter Driscoll; "Rambling Rose" by Calder Willingham and "Arigato" by Richard Condon.

Nader Attacks

Child's Fare Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Ralph Nader group Thursday accused the nation's 10 largest airlines of discriminating against children on domestic flights by raising their fares while keeping the same children's fares for international flights.

The complaint, filed by the Aviation Consumer Action Project, asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to declare the new children's fares illegal. It also asked for an investigation into the airlines' pricing practices, alleging the 10 airlines might have violated antitrust laws by raising prices together.

According to the complaint, the airlines last month increased children's fares on domestic flights from 50 per cent of the adult fare to 66 2-3 per cent. The children's fare on international flights stayed at 50 per cent.

She thoroughly enjoyed it all.

Basketball

Avid fans of the sport called basketball are ready for the Westfall season to start this Friday, Nov. 17 when we play Madison Plains. Our boys and their coaches need your loyal support. We wish for our teams a successful season to the winning side of the ledger but more importantly we would want them to "win without boasting, lose without excuse". Yeah! team, go! Rah! Rah Westfall!

Remember: There are to good things in life — freedom of thought and freedom of action.

Another dear heart, Mrs. Phoebe Smiley has her daughter Mrs. Charles (Ruth) Shipe as her houseguest for the next few days. The two ladies will go to Dayton on Tuesday to be with Ray and Vida Smiley and other family members for the Thanksgiving holiday before jetting out to Macon, Ga. where Mrs. Shipe has her home.

Dance

Thinking of the upcoming holiday don't forget to include in your plans for the day the 50-50 dance sponsored by the Williamsport Volunteer Fire Dept. Beginning at 8 p.m. in the Pavilion the music will be by the ever popular Pioneers. Go and dance off all the extra calories from Tom Turkey and his trimmings.

Good food is enjoyed by one and all and one of the world's really good cooks is none other than Mae Lutter. Enjoying Sunday supper at her home last Sunday (when else) were Eddie and Peggy Litter, Tammy, Patti, Tracy and Julie of Londonderry; Dale (Butch) and Mary Ann Russell, Pete, Tina and Rita of near Clarksburg; Charlie and Sue Clark, Pam, Sharon and Charles of Clarksburg and of course loveable old hubby himself — Herschel.

Mae entertained her Canasta Club last Tuesday evening and the repast was, as usual, scrumptious. Taking home prizes were Esther Picklesimer, high; Colleen Justice, traveling; Jackie Justice, low; and Lois Long, door. Also playing were Pearl Cochenour, Margene Looney, yours truly and the hostess.

Adios, Carmen
The gloomy, cloudy, depressing weather of Monday morning matched perfectly the feelings of our family as we bade farewell to our daughter of four months, Carmen Villanueva of Mexico City.

We are deeply appreciative to

Twas a busy weekend for Charley and Ethel Galloway and their two spritely images, Dena and Brenda. First of all they entertained Mrs. Marion Gilmore and Rory of Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gilmore of Five Points on Saturday. Their Saturday overnight guests were Mrs. Marvin Galloway of Ringgold, Amy Easterday and also from Ringgold, Miss Denise Beers.

Things were anything but quiet at our domicile, too. Saturday overnights were Cindy and David Michael McClure of Londonderry. Saturday evening callers were "Bub" and Rita Stauffer (now of Chillicothe but former local residents) and their darling fifteen month old granddaughter, Jackie Lee Stauffer who is the only child of Jake (Gary) and Julie Stauffer. Good grief! how can it be possible that Jake is old enough to be "papa"? Wasn't it just yesterday he was a towheaded elementary student?

On Sunday we were pleased to have for dinner John and Norma Gillfillan and Jo Lynne of near Piqua, Grandma Hardman (Mrs. Earl) of Chillicothe, the McClures and that red-headed Graffis kid, Chuck. Later in the evening Papa and Mama McClure stopped by to take their two offspring home. Taking advantage of the long weekend our Birly had gone to Londonderry on Thursday and stayed until Saturday with Cousin Cindy.

Paper Drive

For the many folks who have called recently to inquire whether any organization was having a paper drive we can report to you that Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood's DECA group has a constant drive in effect and those persons locally can contact her at her home where there is a "station" for depositing. For the glass we have been unable to find anyone conducting a drive at this time — sorry about that.

Jeff Long, young son of Bill and Vallie Long, is going at full speed once more after being hospitalized and having an emergency appendectomy about two weeks ago. Formerly of our area the Longs now call Daartown home. Grandpa Pete and Grandma Pearl Cochenour drove down to give aid and comfort to the stricken one while he was in the hospital.

Mrs. Agnes Brayshaw was pleasantly surprised recently when two long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Koen of Aliquippa, Pennsy drove over for a day's visit. Grandma B lived for many years in the neighboring Pennsylvania state before moving here to add sunshine to the lives of all who

Brownie Investiture

Tuesday at 4 p.m. was a big moment in the lives of thirteen little girls here in our town. They became Brownies.

After several weeks of fulfilling the necessary requirements the day arrived when each girl repeated her Brownie Promise and was then "pinned" by her mother or mother representative.

Receiving the Brownie Scout pin and the World Association pin were: Brenda Myers, Brenda Galloway, Amy Easterday, Sheryl Horch, Teresa Tarbill, Lana Keller, Lana Commearns, Shara Valentine, Kim McCafferty, Sherry Reeser, Becky Stonerock, Patti Garrison and Teresa Stewart. They are now officially members of Brownie Troop No. 928.

Leaders are Marcia Horch, Carol Tarbill and Loretta Keller. Troop Committee members are Jo Reeser and Eileen Easterday.

Prior to the pinning ceremony the girls presented a program to their assembled guests, who were Mrs. Charles Galloway, Mrs. George List, Mrs. Gene Stonerock and children, Mrs. William Rhinesmith and Elyse, Mrs. Commearns, Mrs. David Myers, Mrs. Mike McCafferty, Mrs. Dallas Valentine, Miss Dena Galloway, Mike Tarbill, Ken Horch, the leaders and troop committee.

Following the Investiture punch and cookies were served from a table beautifully appointed with yellow candles at each end and a centerpiece of fall flowers. Brownie Troop 928 meets each Tuesday after school at 3:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall which is where the Investiture was also held.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two employees of the state treasurer's office, one of them with 18 years service, have been forced to resign because one bought government bonds for the state from the father of the other.

Treasurer Gertrude Donahey said there was nothing wrong with the transaction, but asked the two to resign because she was afraid of how it could look.

The employees are James Dayton, 39, the investment officer, who earns $22,400 a year, and Jeff Portman, 29, Dayton's assistant and son of Columbus City Council President M. D. Portman, with a salary of $15,000.

Mrs. Donahey said Dayton will be leaving the office soon and Portman, an employee since last February, is quitting at the end of the week.

Mrs. Donahey said Dayton handled a $2 million transaction with the elder Portman, a stock broker, without her knowledge. Although she said the younger Portman didn't know about it, she thought it would be "in the best interest of all concerned if he, too, resigned." The state made money on the transaction, she said.

Councilman Portman commented: "I don't think she (Mrs. Donahey) knows what a conflict of interest is."

Brownie Investiture

Tuesday at 4 p.m. was a big moment in the lives of thirteen little girls here in our town. They became Brownies.

After several weeks of fulfilling the necessary requirements the day arrived when each girl repeated her Brownie Promise and was then "pinned" by her mother or mother representative.

Receiving the Brownie Scout pin and the World Association pin were: Brenda Myers, Brenda Galloway, Amy Easterday, Sheryl Horch, Teresa Tarbill, Lana Keller, Lana Commans, Shara Valentine, Kim McCafferty, Sherry Reeser, Becky Stonerock, Patti Garrison and Teresa Stewart. They are now officially members of Brownie Troop No. 928.

Leaders are Marcia Horch, Carol Tarbill and Loretta Keller. Troop Committee members are Jo Reeser and Eileen Easterday.

Prior to the pinning ceremony the girls presented a program to their assembled guests, who were Mrs. Charles Galloway, Mrs. George List, Mrs. Gene Stonerock and children, Mrs. William Rhinesmith and Elyse, Mrs. Commans, Mrs. David Myers, Mrs. Mike McCafferty, Mrs. Dallas Valentine, Miss Dena Galloway, Mike Tarbill, Ken Horch, the leaders and troop committee.

Following the Investiture punch and cookies were served from a table beautifully appointed with yellow candles at each end and a centerpiece of fall flowers. Brownie Troop 928 meets each Tuesday after school at 3:30 p.m. in the American Legion Hall which is where the Investiture was also held.

Twas a busy weekend for Charley and Ethel Galloway and their two spritely images, Dena and Brenda. First of all they entertained Mrs. Marion Gilmore and Rory of Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gilmore of Five Points on Saturday. Their Saturday overnight guests were Mrs. Marvin Galloway of Ringgold, Amy Easterday and also from Ringgold, Miss Denise Beers.

Things were anything but quiet at our domicile, too. Saturday overnights were Cindy and David Michael McClure of Londonderry. Saturday evening callers were "Bub" and Rita Stauffer (now of Chillicothe but former local residents) and their darling fifteen month old grand-daughter, Jackie Lee Stauffer who is the only child of Jake (Gary) and Julie Stauffer. Good grief! how can it be possible that Jake is old enough to be "papa"? Wasn't it just yesterday he was a towheaded elementary student?

On Sunday we were pleased to have for dinner John and Norma Gillfillan and Jo Lynne of near Piqua, Grandma Hardman (Mrs. Earl) of Chillicothe, the McClures and that red-headed Graffs kid, Chuck. Later in the evening Papa and Mama McClure stopped by to take their two offspring home. Taking advantage of the long weekend our Birly had gone to Londonderry on Thursday and stayed until Saturday with Cousin Cindy.

Paper Drive

For the many folks who have called recently to inquire whether any organization was having a paper drive we can report to you that Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood's DECA group has a constant drive in effect and those persons locally can contact her at her home where there is a "station" for depositing. For the glass we have been unable to find anyone conducting a drive at this time — sorry about that.

Jeff Long, young son of Bill and Vallie Long, is going at full speed once more after being hospitalized and having an emergency appendectomy about two weeks ago. Formerly of our area the Longs now call Daartown home. Grandpa Pete and Grandma Pearl Cochenour drove down to give aid and comfort to the stricken one while he was in the hospital.

Mrs. Agnes Brayshaw was pleasantly surprised recently when two long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Koen of Aliquippa, Pennsy drove over for a day's visit. Grandma B lived for many years in the neighboring Pennsylvania state before moving here to add sunshine to the lives of all who come in contact with her.

Another dear heart, Mrs. Phoebe Smiley has her daughter Mrs. Charles (Ruth) Shipe as her houseguest for the next few days. The two ladies will go to Dayton on Tuesday to be with Ray and Vida Smiley and other family members for the Thanksgiving holiday before jetting out to Macon, Ga. where Mrs. Shipe has her home.

Dance

Thinking of the upcoming holiday don't forget to include in your plans for the day the 50-50 dance sponsored by the Williamsport Volunteer Fire Dept. Beginning at 8 p.m. in the Pavilion the music will be by the ever popular Pioneers. Go and dance off all the extra calories from Tom Turkey and his trimmings.

Good food is enjoyed by one and all and one of the world's really good cooks is none other than Mae Later. Enjoying Sunday supper at her home last Sunday (when else) were Eddie and Peggy Litter, Tammy, Patti, Tracy and Julie of Londonderry; Dale (Butch) and Mary Ann Russell, Pete, Tina and Rita of near Clarksburg; Charlie and Sue Clark, Pam, Sharon and Charles of Clarksburg and of course loveable old hubby himself — Herschel.

Mae entertained her Canasta Club last Tuesday evening and the repeat was, as usual, scrumptious. Taking home prizes were Esther Picklesimer, high; Colleen Justice, traveling; Jackie Justice, low; and Lois Long, door. Also playing were Pearl Cochenour, Margene Looney, yours truly and the hosts.

Adios, Carmen

The gloomy, cloudy, depressing weather of Monday morning matched perfectly the feelings of our family as we bade farewell to our daughter of four months, Carmen Villanueva of Mexico City. We are deeply appreciative to

Nader Attacks Child's Fare Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Ralph Nader group Thursday accused the nation's 10 largest airlines of discriminating against children on domestic flights by raising their fares while keeping the same children's fares for international flights.

The complaint, filed by the Aviation Consumer Action Project, asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to declare the new children's fares illegal. It also asked for an investigation into the airlines' pricing practices, alleging the 10 airlines might have violated antitrust laws by raising prices together.

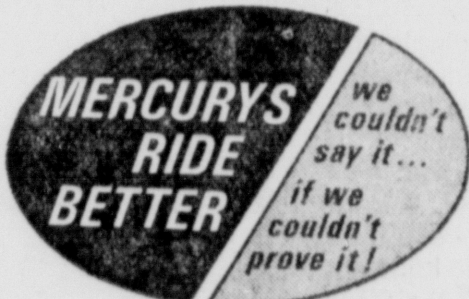

According to the complaint, the airlines last month increased children's fares on domestic flights from 50 per cent of the adult fare to 66 2-3 per cent. The children's fare on international flights stayed at 50 per cent.

the faculty members that were so kind and helpful to Carmen and to the students who befriended her. Her last day at school was a memorable time for her what with the farewell party "engineered" by Pat Ogle and her P.E. class and the gourmet French luncheon prepared by Mrs. Roush in her honor. She thoroughly enjoyed it all.

Thankfulness Studied By Circle 2

"Are We Really Thankful" was the topic of the special Thanksgiving program presented by Mrs. Carl Wilson at the November meeting of Circle 2 of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Arthur K. Bowman, 225 Cedar Heights Road, hosted 15 Circle members and one guest, Mrs. E. S. Shane.

As program leader, Mrs. Wilson presented the thought of Thanksgiving thankfulness. She noted that too many times complaints overcome the dinner prayer and that being truly thankful requires much inward thought.

Accompanying scripture was provided by Mrs. Clydus Leist. A reading was given by Mrs. Howard Conley on the meaning of Thanksgiving, followed by a poem, "Reasons for Thanksgiving" by Mrs. Clarence Merz.

After a reading, "Beyond Thanksgiving," was given by Mrs. Harold Baker, each member placed her "World Bank" offering on the worship center and paused for a moment of silent prayer.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the secretary, Mrs. Bowman, who opened with a reading, "The Custom of the Pilgrims." Mrs. Wilson gave her thought for the month: "Do what God would have you do — He will do the rest."

With a carton of eggs, Mrs. Wilson illustrated how we live in an upside down world. She noted that when eggs are stored upside down, air will get in the top of the shells and the eggs will spoil. "Some of us might find ourselves in the same situation," she noted, "if we create a void in our spiritual lives and fail to do what we think is right when a situation calls for action." She encouraged members to do and not just talk — and God will do the rest.

Members were asked to remember the coming revival and "Key 73" in prayer.

Social Concerns Chairman, Mrs. Leist, reported that nylon hose, old eyeglasses and cancelled postage stamps are still needed for various projects. Members were also encouraged to visit shut-ins and residents of homes for the elderly.

Plans were discussed for the December meeting and Christmas party. Mrs. Clarence Radcliff will host the meeting in her home with a 6:30 p.m. dinner preceding the meeting. Program will be by Mrs. Bowman. A gift exchange and social hour will follow the program and prayer partners will be revealed.

Members are asked to make reservations for themselves and their guests by Dec. 8.

Following the meeting and program, Mrs. Bowman, assisted by Mrs. Shane and

Big Murder Case Doesn't Pan Out

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Sedgwick County investigators thought they might have a homicide with the discovery of a well-preserved skull near Derby, Kan.

The skull was found Tuesday night by two boys in a pile of rubbish along a creek bank.

"We began our investigation on the possibility there might have been a murder," Sheriff Johnnie Darr said Wednesday.

After sifting through debris near the discovery site, Darr said, investigators were directed to relatives of a deceased physician.

Darr said the skull, part of skeleton used for demonstration, was discarded after the doctor's death.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO CONCERNED PARENTS

Is your child's progress in school satisfactory to him and to you? If you feel improvement is desirable and, if you are willing to give your child genuine encouragement, please give this serious thought. Regardless of his age or grade level, every student has various needs. He may be academically successful and socially a failure — or vice versa.

Now there is a method whereby the student can FIND himself. He can learn how to study, how to develop his vocabulary, how to use a library, how to write a term paper, and how to decide on a career.

Self-confidence, emotional stability, and goal-directed action are all a part of the progressive movement toward maturity and our program will help any participant develop in all of these areas.

Learning, at any age, should be a spontaneous, creative, and enjoyable experience. We provide the tools for just that.

Thankfulness Studied By Circle 2

"Are We Really Thankful" was the topic of the special Thanksgiving program presented by Mrs. Carl Wilson at the November meeting of Circle 2 of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Arthur K. Bowman, 225 Cedar Heights Road, hosted 15 Circle members and one guest, Mrs. E. S. Shane.

As program leader, Mrs. Wilson presented the thought of Thanksgiving thankfulness. She noted that too many times complaints overcome the dinner prayer and that being truly thankful requires much inward thought.

Accompanying scripture was provided by Mrs. Clydus Leist. A reading was given by Mrs. Howard Conley on the meaning of Thanksgiving, followed by a poem, "Reasons for Thanksgiving" by Mrs. Clarence Merz.

After a reading, "Beyond Thanksgiving," was given by Mrs. Harold Baker, each member placed her "World Bank" offering on the worship center and paused for a moment of silent prayer.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the secretary, Mrs. Bowman, who opened with a reading, "The Custom of the Pilgrims." Mrs. Wilson gave her thought for the month: "Do what God would have you do — He will do the rest."

With a carton of eggs, Mrs. Wilson illustrated how we live in an upside down world. She noted that when eggs are stored upside down, air will get in the top of the shells and the eggs will spoil. "Some of us might find ourselves in the same situation," she noted, "if we create a void in our spiritual lives and fail to do what we think is right when a situation calls for action." She encouraged members to do and not just talk — and God will do the rest.

Members were asked to remember the coming revival and "Key 73" in prayer.

Social Concerns Chairman, Mrs. Leist, reported that nylon hose, old eyeglasses and cancelled postage stamps are still needed for various projects. Members were also encouraged to visit shut-ins and residents of homes for the elderly.

Plans were discussed for the December meeting and Christmas party. Mrs. Clarence Radcliff will host the meeting in her home with a 6:30 p.m. dinner preceding the meeting. Program will be by Mrs. Bowman. A gift exchange and social hour will follow the program and prayer partners will be revealed.

Members are asked to make reservations for themselves and their guests by Dec. 8.

Following the meeting and program, Mrs. Bowman, assisted by Mrs. Shane and

Chewing Gum Pack Profitable

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Philip Hoover, 9, Orem, Utah, bought a 10-cent pack of chewing gum from a vending machine in a gas station Wednesday.

He offered the first stick to his father, who turned it down.

Phillip unwrapped the outer label and foil, but found another layer of foil. He unwrapped that and found a $10 bill.

Pat Nixon Discovers Fun With Hydrofoil

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Pat Nixon says the hydrofoil boat that was a gift to the President from Soviet party chief Leonid Brezhnev is exciting and "great fun."

Mrs. Nixon disclosed Wednesday that the family made a secret trip last weekend in Florida's Biscayne Bay to try out the 28-foot boat that skims over the water at a speed of about 30 knots, or 34 miles per hour.

Princess Anne Nabbed For Speeding

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne, the 22-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, has been ticketed twice this month for speeding in her 125-mile-per-hour sports car.

A police spokesman said Wednesday that Anne first broke Britain's 70 m.p.h. speed limit on a superhighway from London that passes near the royal family's Berkshire Castle, then again on another highway to the north.

Now the city has another problem — cattle rustlers apparently made off with six of the impounded cows.

Cattle Conflicts Rise In Gallup

GALLUP, N. M. (AP) — The days when conflicts involving cattlemen kept the law busy aren't over yet in Gallup.

Heavy rains have damaged many fences in the area, and a number of cows and horses have wandered the streets of the city lately. The City Council directed Police Chief Manuel Gonzales to clamp down on offenders.

PUMPKIN EATERS

Bringing in the harvest is hard work! Just the thought of lugging this big pumpkin around is enough to make Carol and Sue tired and sleepy!

But what will Mommy do? She will make pies for Thanksgiving dinner. Then the house will smell sweet and spicy from the baking, and there will be a big table with the huge, browned turkey, and grandfather will say grace...

Thanksgiving is a day unique to Americans. In this troubled world of today Americans might count their blessings with hesitant hearts, but stop to compare your lot with your brothers in other nations, and you will soon find that God has given to you bounteously.

Give thanks, then, in the church of your choice.

PUMPKIN EATERS

Bringing in the harvest is hard work! Just the thought of lugging this big pumpkin around is enough to make Carol and Sue tired and sleepy!

But what will Mommy do? She will make pies for Thanksgiving dinner. Then the house will smell sweet and spicy from the baking, and there will be a big table with the huge, browned turkey, and grandfather will say grace...

Thanksgiving is a day unique to Americans. In this troubled world of today Americans might count their blessings with hesitant hearts, but stop to compare your lot with your brothers in other nations, and you will soon find that God has given to you bounteously.

Give thanks, then, in the church of your choice.

Educational System Gets Teacher OK

By GLEN GILLESPIE

"Circleville has one of the best educational systems in Ohio," is the opinion of David Angles, who is the physical education teacher at the CJHS.

Mr. Angles, who graduated from OSU with a BS degree in Secondary Education resides at 377 Clark Drive with his wife, Sandy, who is employed at the Second National Bank.

Angles, a native of Wellston, has had three previous years of teaching experience and says, this job is a "step up." He plans to make the Phys. Ed. program at the junior high the best possible. He feels privileged to work with today's youth and will try to improve them physically, mentally and socially.

DAVE ANGLES
Phys. Ed.

Asked his opinion of today's youth he replied, "Basically they have good ideas and work to improve society, it is just the undisciplined that create the wrong image."

Mr. Angles enjoys Circleville and the people. He is involved with many organizations, including OEA, local TA and the Football Coaches of Ohio. His future plans are to return to school and earn his masters degree in physical education.

1924

The annual was dedicated to Charles F. Zaenglein.

Gerald Marion was president of the Senior Class.

Class motto was "Carpe Diem (Capture Opportunity)."

The class flower was the red carnation.

The Literary Society presented "The Thread of Destiny."

The Tigers ended their football season 4-1.

Teen Vote Gives Nixon The Lead

On Nov. 7 when the rest of the country was making its choices in this year's election, CHS held one of its own. Two names appeared on the ballot: President Richard M. Nixon and Senator George S. McGovern.

The purpose behind the election was to find out if the voting patterns at the high school compared, in percentages, to the rest of the country. It also afforded the students a chance to express their views and gave them experience in the voting process.

The final results showed Mr. Nixon on top, 74.8 percent to 25.2 percent. On the national level, the President led 61 to 38.

DECA Clubs Sponsor Ecology Drive

The CHS Jr. and Sr. DECA clubs are sponsoring a "Paper Drive." This year-long project is a community and ecology minded service, that is, to help keep private premises and the community clean.

Anyone having any papers should contact Dianna Kiger, 474-5692, or Linda Gentzel, 474-8263.

Changes Affect Staffing For CHS Yearbook

NEW LOOK—The staff, the ideas and the book will be all new for the 1973 publication of the CHS "Circle," the district yearbook. Staff members Kay

Downing and Debbie McCauley take a glance in last year's edition in making plans for the new annual which is now being sold at the school.

The "Circle" staff has a different look this year. It has undergone several major changes, starting with Miss Meg Bower as the new adviser. She and Mrs. Boggs, last year's "Boss Lady" traded positions, giving Miss Bower the main responsibility of overseeing the 1973's book production.

"It's different than proofreading pages and being Mrs. Boggs' assistant. There's more pressure now. But I enjoy it; it's exciting," stated Miss Bower.

Some of her new duties include helping with emergencies, seeing that the staff does not overspend its budget, hounding the editor about deadlines, censoring pictures and copy when necessary, and giving the final OK to pages before they are sent in.

Concerning the staff, Miss Bower mentioned that it was nice to have so many dedicated people.

The "Circle" staff itself is almost entirely inexperienced this year. Editor June Brudzinski, assistant Ann Yates, business manager Deb Brian, and assistant Kay Downing are currently engaged in orienting the first-year members. "It's almost as complicated as Mr. Moore's geometry class," said sports editor Pam Sellers when

Logan Elm Teen Moves To Circleville

CARL DEAN JR.

By BARBARA SOUDERS
This week the Red and Black is featuring as the new student, Carl Dean, a senior. Carl comes from Logan Elm school and now resides at 567 West Road with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dean Sr.

Even though most of Carl's time is spent working at Big Bear, he still finds time for his hobby—all sports, especially football. His likes include bowling, pool and playing cards. Two organizations that Carl belongs to are the Pickaway County National Honor Society and the First Presbyterian Church.

When asked what he thought of Circleville he replied, "I like it."

He is enrolled in the business course and plans to go into business management after graduation.

Tigers Close In Mudbowl

Circleville wrapped up its 1972 football season with a disappointing 15-7 loss to Athens.

The game was played under very adverse weather conditions. The field was a sloppy mess, and the footing was very treacherous. The Tiger's main downfall were fumbles and mental mistakes.

Even with this loss the Tiger's concluded a very successful season with a 7-3 record. This includes five straight league wins as well as the SCOL Championship.

Seniors playing their last football game for the Red and Black were: Dave Webb, Don Seyfang, Greg Williams, Peter Bowers, Tom Frericks, Gary Mogan, Dave Truex, Stuart Moore, Randy Young, Dennis Huston and Larry MacFarland.

Credit should go to first-year coach Larry Cook and his fine groups of assistants: Jim Lint, Dave Angles and Brent Bell.

Also praise should be given to Circleville's three "super" scouts: Dale Harger, Tom Cole and Ron Malone. They brought back in tremendous reports on each team week after week.

The Tigers have a strong nucleus returning from which to begin building next year. Coach Cook and his staff have laid the ground work for a championship team for many years to come.

Circleville's football program has seemed to have recaptured the traditional winning spirit that has been in Circleville for so many years.

DIANNA STARKEY

By KRIS RIED

Dianna Starkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starkey, 477 Stella Ave., is this week's DECA student.

She is employed at Jim's Pay and Save, working approximately 30 hours a week. Some of her duties include dusting, pricing items, stocking shelves and waiting on customers.

DECA notified Dianna when there was a job opening. She filled out an application, then went back for an interview. Dianna feels the DECA program has helped her prepare for the future by explaining the type of jobs that are available.

Incorporated in her likes are good books, holidays and animals. Rainy days and getting up early are a couple of her dislikes.

Dianna plans to continue working at Jim's Pay and Save after graduation, and maybe she will enroll in a vocational school later.

Set For New Ball Game

By DEBBIE RADABAUGH

This year CHS is represented in all facets of the sport of basketball. With the addition of six new girl statisticians, and a great varsity and reserve team, CHS is expecting the best season ever.

However, the unsung heroes of CHS are the members of the Circleville Supersonics basketball team, who play each Monday night at the YMCA. Aply coached by Greg Williams, the Supersonics expect to be traveling to Dayton to participate in the Ohio Tournament, consisting of champion "Y" teams throughout the state.

The captain and this year's team quarterback is Tom Taylor. Tom has two year's experience with the "Y" basketball program, and was a unanimous choice for captain. His father, Claud Taylor, is assistant coach, and head of the film department.

Other members of the Supersonics are Scott Clifton, the team dunker, Don Goeller and Kevin Wood, rookies, and Mark Hang and Bill Halstenberg, regular starters from last year. Other prospects are being sought to provide extra manpower.

The Supersonics have a great attitude and the desire to win. With a lot of hustle and speed, they just might be headed for Dayton, and a state championship.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Three University of Minnesota research physicians say they have found a drug that protects animal hearts against damage from induced heart attacks.

Talent Acts Go On Tour

The SCOL Student Council held their first project, a talent show, last Monday afternoon.

One of the main purposes of the league Studet Council is to promote better spirits and feelings among member schools. This group originated last year and sponsored the SCOL Olympics and a dance. The talent show was planned to help raise money to be used for the 1973 Olympics and probable dance.

Each school was asked to prepare three acts for this presentation. Since there are six member schools this made a total of 18 acts. November 13 was set aside as the day for all schools to have the assembly. Nine acts went to three schools and nine went to the other three—thus a traveling show.

With Paul England as emcee, the production began with a Miami Trace female vocalist who sang "Walk on By" to the accompaniment of guitars and an organ. Some other acts were a demonstration done by two Washington Court House girls who have black belts in karate, and a selection of songs by Tim Burns on the piano.

Greenfield concluded the program with a series of skits.

Two of Circleville's acts traveled to Greenfield, Hillsboro and Wilmington High schools.

Tom Caruso played Cat Steven's songs on the guitar and Janet Helwagen, Kathy Penn Janie Guenther and Debbie Radabaugh did a modern dance routine to "King Herod's Song" from "Superstar."

Circleville School Menu

Dianna Starkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starkey, 477 Stella Ave., is this week's DECA student.

She is employed at Jim's Pay and Save, working approximately 30 hours a week. Some of her duties include dusting, pricing items, stocking shelves and waiting on customers.

DECA notified Dianna when there was a job opening. She filed an application, then went back for an interview. Dianna feels the DECA program has helped her prepare for the future by explaining the type of jobs that are available.

Incorporated in her likes are good books, holidays and animals. Rainy days and getting up early are a couple of her dislikes.

Dianna plans to continue working at Jim's Pay and Save after graduation, and maybe she will enroll in a vocational school later.

Set For New Ball Game

By DEBBIE RADABAUGH

This year CHS is represented in all facets of the sport of basketball. With the addition of six new girl statisticians, and a great varsity and reserve team, CHS is expecting the best season ever.

However, the unsung heroes of CHS are the members of the Circleville Supersonics basketball team, who play each Monday night at the YMCA. Aply coached by Greg Williams, the Supersonics expect to be traveling to Dayton to participate in the Ohio Tournament, consisting of champion "Y" teams throughout the state.

The captain and this year's team quarterback is Tom Taylor. Tom has two year's experience with the "Y" basketball program, and was a unanimous choice for captain. His father, Claud Taylor, is assistant coach, and head of the film department.

Other members of the Supersonics are Scott Clifton, the team dunker, Don Goeller and Kevin Wood, rookies, and Mark Hang and Bill Halstenberg, regular starters from last year. Other prospects are being sought to provide extra manpower.

The Supersonics have a great attitude and the desire to win. With a lot of hustle and speed, they just might be headed for Dayton, and a state championship.

Circleville DE Clubs Attend District Leadership Confab

District 17 held its annual DECA Fall Leadership Conference on Nov. 8 with Chillicothe High School hosting delegations from Athens, Circleville, Ironton, Jackson, Lancaster, Logan, Nelsonville Tri County and Portsmouth.

Upon arrival, all delegations gathered in the high school auditorium where Greg Spriggs, coordinator of Chillicothe Junior Class DECA, welcomed all members and coordinators to the conference and introductions were made.

Ron Lampman, Logan coordinator, presented the contestants for the Miss Ohio DECA representative from District 17. Circleville candidates were Becky Dountz and Cindy Bond.

Contest winner was a student from the Nelsonville Tri-County JVS. She was named in special awards ceremony at the end of the conference. Because her chapter's membership list had not reached the state DECA office before a deadline, the first runner-up, one of the Chillicothe candidates, will represent District 17 at the State Miss Ohio DECA contest Nov. 18.

Named District Chairman for the year was Keith Davis, Chillicothe.

Circleville's candidates for the offices were Herb Poling, a DECA II member and Tara McPherson, DECA I, for district chairman; Pam Thomas, DECA I and Debbie Coats, DECA II, for district recorder.

Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood, Circleville II coordinator, read the changes that have taken place in DECA contests on the state and national level.

Treated to a steak dinner, served by Chillicothe's Junior DECA Club, were Circleville students Rick Crawford, Sheryl Brown, Cathy Gumm, Jay Swackhammer, Bill Litten, Brenda Lemaster, Nita Whaley, Rick Smith, Tim Leist.

A new breed of ferry—the hovercraft—floats seven feet above the water on air blown downward by powerful fans trapped in a rubber skirt. One carries as many as 254 passengers and 30 automobiles at a mile a minute between Dover, England, and Boulogne-sur-Mer, France.

Christened the Athens mud-bowl, the football field became a nightmare so horrible, that it was almost funny. Yet, in spite of the condition of the area, the band played on.

It's last half-time show for the season began with the fanfare, "Granda". Moving on the field with "El Cumbanchero," the band slid through the routine learned at band camp and used for the Ohio State Fair Band Competition.

"2001 Space Odyssey" and "Get It On" were played in the middle of this show. The seniors were, for the most part, too busy scraping mud off themselves, to realize that this was their last high school football game. However, for those underclassmen stricken with music-mania, there is always next year.

Marching through the mess of mud, most of the members of the musically minded mass muffled moans, but managed to make it with a measure of mastery.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Once again it's roundball time and we look forward to Friday night's opening whistles with all the eagerness of a kid on Christmas Eve trying to make the clock run faster.

When Westfall and Logan Elm hit the hardwoods in the county openers, it will be back to the sound of the ball swishing the nets, the rousing music of the pep bands, pretty cheerleaders, jam packed gyms and the excitement that only a nip and tuck cage battle can provide.

We've talked to coaches and players — they're ready to go. The band instruments are all tuned up — ready to rock the place. The fans are eager and waiting to stuff the arenas like six pounds of potatoes in a five pound bag.

It looks like a good year in Pickaway County with some fine teams shaping up and the possibility of a few more league trophies filling the local cases.

Teays Valley is set to go Monday night when they host Logan Elm in what could turn out to be a real barn burner.

Circleville will be the last team to get underway with a Nov. 25 clash on tap at Westfall.

The Monday night tilt at Teays Valley suits us just fine and brings out a point that we feel should be considered when it's time to make up the cage schedules.

In our humble opinion, a mid-week contest and a Friday night game would be a much better setup than the present Friday and Saturday schedule.

First of all, it would be better for the players, physically and mentally. Consecutive games tax the strength of the players and make it hard for them to "get up" two nights in a row.

Secondly, it's hard on the coaches to prepare and practice two game plans at the same time — they don't get a chance to work with their players between games under the present arrangement.

We feel it would be better on everyone involved and provide better basketball.

Some opponents of the plan will say they don't like to hold games on a school night — We feel we also have an answer for them.

Get the reserve games underway at 6:30 p.m. — Logan Elm and Westfall are doing it this year. The varsity game would be able to start at 7:30 p.m. and everyone would be on their way home by 9 p.m.

Maybe some of the readers won't agree with us — But all we can say is — "Try it . . . You'll like it!"

Our "fearless" forecast — Braves will dunk the Pioneers . . . The Mustangs will start off with two big wins . . . The Vikings will outgun the Braves . . . Browns can't stop the Steelers . . . Bengals will break the Colts.

Until next time, have a nice day — be a good sport.

Ron Pritchard Proves Self An Asset To Cincy Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mustache Ron Pritchard, an agile linebacker obtained recently from Houston, isn't missing any chance to prove he can start for Cincinnati.

The fourth-year pro from Arizona State made 11 unassisted tackles in his first start for the Bengals last week against Oakland. He also performed well as he played on specialty teams his first two weeks with the Bengals.

"He's a premier player at his position," Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown said.

"He's awake on his feet, and is a tough man who can meet a run."

Pritchard, a professional wrestler in the off-season, was acquired along with wide receiver Charlie Joiner in a deal that sent running backs Paul Robinson and Fred Willis to the Oilers about four weeks ago.

Although the Bengals had figured to work Pritchard into the lineup gradually, Brown said that Pritchard's efforts already have been "no surprise to us."

The 25-year-old, 235-pounder said he had been a starter all his career and "I would like to keep doing the good job. I think it will be a real competitive situation here."

"I consider myself a good linebacker in the league and I know I have high regard from teams we play."

Pritchard said he didn't have any idea what the Bengals plans were for him when they picked him up in the trade "because they have good line-backers."

"It will be hard to move any of them out but Ken Avery pulled a hamstring and I got the opportunity to start and challenge for a position quicker than I probably would have."

"I would sure like to keep starting if I can."

Michigan Faces Purdue In Big Ten

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nationally, third-ranked Michigan, mainly feasting on second division victims, puts its unsullied Big Ten football title defense on the line Saturday against invading Purdue's still-alive Boilermakers.

The day's semi-final Conference round spotlights the regionally-televised challenge of first-place Michigan (6-0), No. 1 nationally in scoring defense with a paltry average yield of 4.1 points, by two-touchdown underdog Purdue 5-1.

Another important clash in the run for the wire and quest for a Rose Bowl bid takes Ohio State, also with a 5-1 loop mark and deadlocked with Purdue for second place, against host Northwestern, trapped in the Big Ten cellar with 1-6.

Michigan State, fourth with 4-1-1 after two giant-killing conquests of Purdue and Ohio State, will try to keep retiring coach Duffy Daugherty happy by breaking Duffy's winless Gopherland career skein in his seventh and final visit to Minnesota (2-4).

Southern Cal Faces UCLA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undefeated Southern California, the nation's top-ranked college football team, places its Rose Bowl aspirations on the line against UCLA Saturday—the day when other bowl invitations will be extended.

If victorious against 14th-ranked UCLA, the Trojans, 9-0, will meet either Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue or possibly outsider Michigan State in the annual Rose classic.

Although bowl announcements won't be officially made until Saturday, The Associated Press has learned the pairings.

Match-ups will be: Alabama-Texas in the Cotton Bowl; Nebraska-Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl; Oklahoma-Penn State in the Sugar Bowl; Louisiana State-Tennessee in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl and Auburn against Colorado in the Gator Bowl.

Iowa State, No. 12, will play in the Liberty Bowl if the Cyclones defeat Missouri on Saturday with North Carolina as the likely opponent.

Arizona State is tied with Utah and Arizona for the Western Athletic Conference title and a spot in the Fiesta Bowl. The Sun Devils, 7-2, have only one game remaining while Arizona and Utah each have two left. If Utah wins the WAC championship, it could leave Arizona State free for the Liberty, Peach or Sun Bowls. The Peach Bowl could attract either Florida State or West Virginia.

In action Saturday, second-ranked Alabama, with its second straight Southeastern Conference crown secured, is a 24-point favorite to defeat Virginia Tech. Louisiana State, No. 8, faces Mississippi State while 11th-ranked Auburn meets Georgia. Tennessee, No. 13, battles Mississippi.

Other games Saturday include: Purdue at No. 3 Michigan; No. 17 Washington at No. 20 Washington State; Duke at North Carolina; No. 4 Oklahoma at Kansas; Kansas State at No. 6 Nebraska; Penn State, No. 5, at Boston College; Texas, No. 7, at Texas Christian; Ohio State, No. 9, at Northwestern and Miami, Fla., at No. 10 Notre Dame.

Steelers A Nemesis For Browns

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns of yesterday were known for their solid running attack, veteran leadership at quarterback, a solid defense that bent but never broke and forced numerous turnovers.

That was the Paul Brown influence and it's a touch of irony because the Browns will be facing a Pittsburgh Steeler squad Sunday that has the look-in-the-past atmosphere surrounding it.

It comes as no surprise that the Steelers coach is a former Browns assistant Chuck Noll.

The Browns are in a must-win situation as they are one game back of their AFC Central Division rivals with five to play. Cleveland holds a seven-year jinx over Pittsburgh in Municipal Stadium and the Steelers have gone 40 years without capturing a division title.

Pittsburgh has averaged 5.1 yards each rushing attempt this season and in the past five games — all victories — have gone over the 200-yard mark. Plus rookie running back Franco Harris has hit the century level in four of those contests and is said to resemble the man whose number he wears (32) and who formerly played for the Cleveland Browns — Jim Brown.

VIKING LETTERMEN—Teays Valley Coach Bob Hoover discusses plans with his returning lettermen for Monday's season cage opener with Logan Elm. Going over

Sabine, Craig Pontius and Jim Pabst.

Experienced Viking Cagers Ready For Season Opener

It will be an experienced Teays Valley team going into opening basketball action Monday night when the Vikings host the Braves of Logan Elm in a county rivalry confrontation.

Coach Bob Hoover has five lettermen from last year's squad in Jim Pabst, Jerry Sabine, Tim Triance, Craig Pontius and Jim Logsdon.

These veterans will form the nucleus of a club which also boasts of six juniors and a lone sophomore.

Members of the Teays Valley varsity are: Jim Pabst, 6-foot-1, senior; Jerry Sabine, 5-foot-9, senior; Tim Triance, 6-foot, senior; Craig Pontius, 5-foot-10, junior; Norman McPherson, 6-foot, junior; Jim Logsdon, 6-foot-3, junior; Terry Lambert, 5-foot-9, junior; Jim Jenkins, 6-foot, junior; Bill Hines, 5-foot-9, junior; Jay Brinker, 6-foot, junior; Jeff Anderson, 6-foot-2, junior; and Terry Collins, 6-foot-1, sophomore.

THE Vikings will have fair size but can't be classed as a big club which could hurt them in the rebounding department.

However they hope to offset this with aggressiveness, hustle and know how on the boards.

Pontius will provide the Blue and Gold with a good field general who will be counted on to keep the offense moving.

Good outside shooting on the part of Sabine, Lambert Brinker and Pontius will be one of the strong points of the attack.

Anderson, Logsdon and Triance will be the key to the rebounding game and all three have proven they can pound the boards like an angry carpenter.

Speed and quickness will help the Vikings offensively and defensively and Lambert, Sabine and Pontius have plenty of it.

THE Blue and Gold will utilize a pattern set up offense but have the speed to fast break when the occasion arises.

On defense the Vikings will go man to man with the ability to press when needed.

"We feel we have a well rounded ball club and are optimistic about our chances in the league," Coach Hoover stated.

"We must beat some teams on their own floors and be up for the key games. With only three back to back ball games on the schedule, we should be able to stay in good physical and mental condition," Hoover commented.

Pabst, McPherson, Jenkins, Hines and Collins have plenty of ability and will make the Vikings a solid club.

Coach Hoover feels that Dublin, with quickness, size and experience, will be a strong team in the Metropolitan League.

MARSYVILLE, new to the league, could be a darkhorse. But the Vikings have the guns and have to be considered the team to beat for the title.

Here is the complete Viking schedule:

Nov. 20	Logan Elm
Nov. 24	At Franklin Heights
Dec. 1	West Jefferson
Dec. 8	At Hamilton Twp.
Dec. 15	Marysville
Dec. 16	At Grandview

Pro Prediction: Dolphins To Win

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Miami's Dolphins won't awake from that unbeatable dream during Sunday's match with the New York Jets, especially since a victory will cause celebration of a division title under the palms.

Miami is a 27-20 choice over Joe Namath's crowd to go 10-0 and retain a solid chance at becoming the National Football League's first all-the-way winner in 30 years.

Last to do it were the 1942 Chicago Bears.

But, if there's any pressure, it's on New York. The Jets, 6-3, are fighting for a "wild card" spot in the NFL playoffs and another defeat would be highly damaging.

The Jets, with little hope of wiping out a three-game Miami lead in the American Conference East, can still reach the December showdown if their record is tops among nonwinners of AFC divisions.

Pittsburgh's dazzling Steelers are our choices to whip Cleveland 17-10 and gallop to two games ahead in the AFC Central and a giant step closer to their first championship in history.

With the running of Franco Harris, the throwing of Terry Bradshaw and a defense ignited by linebacker Jack Ham and tackle "Mean" Joe Greene, the Steelers are amid a rise that rivals that of Miami.

Elsewhere around the NFL: RAMS 23, VIKINGS 14: Minnesota is still struggling, despite a rise to challenge Green Bay in the NFC Central. The Rams must bounce back from Denver loss or face spending the playoff season at home.

RAIDERS 27, BRONCOS 21: Denver won first meet in Oakland, but Raiders—in a similar spot to the Rams—are old pros who realize the playoff stuff is getting serious.

CHIEFS 30, CHARGERS 21: San Diego will find enough mistakes to lose, despite a much improved team and Kansas City—say it again, Sam—is reaching a moment of decision with a 5-4 record this late in the year.

COWBOYS 33, EAGLES 7: World champion Dallas would risk, with a defeat, falling two games behind Washington in the NFC East. That isn't about to happen — especially against the Brotherly Doves.

PACKERS 27, OILERS 10: Packers are one up in a three-team division war with Minnesota and Detroit and—even if they didn't have a reason—the Pack could beat Houston. Why not? Everyone else has.

49ERS 21, BEARS 14: San Francisco has a thin hope of catching Los Angeles in the NFC West and Chicago seems to have had its fun for 1972.

GIANTS 34, CARDS 14: St. Louis rivals Philadelphia and Houston for the "Least Offensive" title in the NFL. New York slugged it out well in the Washington-Dallas division and beat Cards earlier 27-21 when St. Louis hadn't slid quite so far.

LIONS 27, SAINTS 9: It's another contender vs. also-ran situation and Detroit must not only win, but carefully since it meets the New York Jets in a Thanksgiving match five days later.

COLTS 17, BENGALS 14: An upset special. Baltimore seems to be getting it together somewhat under new quarterback Marty Domres and the Colts, while having slipped, just aren't a 2-7 team.

BILLS 10, PATRIOTS 7: Now isn't this a glamorous match? Buffalo has O.J. Simpson and that's just enough to show New England's new coach, Phil Bengtson, that the Pats are just as weak as he suspected.

REDSKINS 28, FALCONS 17: George Allen's team have an 8-0-1 record against Atlanta, but this won't be easy since the Falcons are only a half game behind Los Angeles in the NFC West. A Ram loss Sunday could ignite Atlanta.

CHS Sets Fall Sports Banquet

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will sponsor a fall sports banquet 6:30 p.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria.

The football team, cross country squad and cheerleaders will be given well deserved recognition at the affair.

The guest speaker will be Dale Strahm, linebacker and middle guard coach at Bowling Green State University.

Strahm, 29, was head football coach at Hamilton Taft High School before resigning to accept the position at Bowling Green in 1971. He is a graduate of Ohio Northern where he starred in football and track.

The dinner will be a carry in affair and everyone must provide their own table service.

SuperSonics Fined, Lose Draft Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics, fined $200,000 for signing Spencer Haywood two years ago, have been fined $10,000 and ordered to give their 1973 No. 1 draft pick to the Philadelphia 76ers for signing John Brisker.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association announced the penalties Thursday, marking the first time he has stripped a team of its top draft choice and awarded it to another club.

"Seattle, in the Brisker matter, has violated the simple principle of fair play," said Kennedy in announcing his ruling. The fine is one of the largest he has levied since his authority was extended last year, giving him the power to levy fines up to $25,000.

The huge assessment against the SuperSonics' in 1970 for signing Haywood, who had jumped the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association, was not levied by the commissioner, but by the league's Board of Governors.

Seattle was permitted to keep Haywood, but had to drop all lawsuits against the league and was fined $200,000.

The SuperSonics also were allowed to keep Brisker, who signed with the ABA's Pittsburgh team in 1969, and was selected by Dallas in this year's dispersal draft after the Pittsburgh franchise was disbanded.

Cleveland Crusaders Lose Skip Krake

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Crusaders will be without right wing Skip Krake for six to eight weeks. The high-scoring forward has torn ligaments in his right knee.

Krake, 29, suffered the injury Tuesday in a World Hockey Association contest with the Minnesota Fighting Saints. He was operated on the following day. Krake had six goals and seven assists in 15 games.

Southern Cal Faces UCLA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undeclared Southern California, the nation's top-ranked college football team, places its Rose Bowl aspirations on the line against UCLA Saturday — the day when other bowl invitations will be extended.

If victorious against 14th-ranked UCLA, the Trojans, 9-0, will meet either Michigan, Ohio State, Purdue or possibly out-sider Michigan State in the annual Rose classic.

Other games Saturday include: Purdue at No. 3 Michigan; No. 17 Washington at No. 20 Washington State; Duke at North Carolina; No. 4 Oklahoma at Kansas; Kansas State at No. 6 Nebraska; Penn State, No. 5, at Boston College; Texas, No. 7, at Texas Christian; Ohio State, No. 9, at Northwestern and Miami, Fla., at No. 10 Notre Dame.

VIKING LETTERMEN—Teays Valley Coach Bob Hoover discusses plans with

Sabine, Craig Pontius and Jim Pabst.

Experienced Viking Cagers Ready For Season Opener

It will be an experienced Teays Valley team going into opening basketball action Monday night when the Vikings host the Braves of Logan Elm in a county rivalry confrontation.

Coach Bob Hoover has five lettermen from last year's squad in Jim Pabst, Jerry Sabine, Tim Triance, Craig Pontius and Jim Logsdon.

These veterans will form the nucleus of a club which also boasts of six juniors and a lone sophomore.

Members of the Teays Valley varsity are: Jim Pabst, 6-foot-1, senior; Jerry Sabine, 5-foot-9, senior; Tim Triance, 6-foot, senior; Craig Pontius, 5-foot-10, junior; Norman McPherson, 6-foot, junior; Jim Logsdon, 6-foot-9, junior; Terry Lambert, 5-foot-9, junior; Jim Jenkins, 6-foot, junior; Bill Hines, 5-foot-9, junior; Jay Brinker, 6-foot-2, junior; Jeff Anderson, 6-foot-2,

junior; and Terry Collins, 6-foot-1, sophomore.

THE Vikings will have fair size but can't be classed as a big club which could hurt them in the rebounding department.

However they hope to offset this with aggressiveness, hustle and know how on the boards.

Pontius will provide the Blue and Gold with a good field general who will be counted on to keep the offense moving.

"We must beat some teams on their own floors and be up for the key games. With only three back to back ball games on the schedule, we should be able to stay in good physical and mental condition," Hoover commented.

Pabst, McPherson, Jenkins, Hines and Collins have plenty of ability and will make the Vikings a solid club.

Coach Hoover feels that Dublin, with quickness, size and experience, will be a strong team in the Metropolitan League.

MARSVILLE, new to the league, could be a darkhorse. But the Vikings have the guns and have to be considered the team to beat for the title.

Here is the complete Viking schedule:

Nov. 20	Logan Elm
Nov. 24	At Franklin Heights
Dec. 1	West Jefferson
Dec. 8	At Hamilton Twp.
Dec. 15	Marysville

Steelers A Nemesis For Browns

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns of yesterday were known for their solid running attack, veteran leadership at quarterback, a solid defense that bent but never broke and forced numerous turnovers.

That was the Paul Brown influence and it's a touch of irony because the Browns will find Sunday's match with the New York Jets, especially since a victory will cause celebration of a division title under the palms.

Miami is a 27-29 choice over Joe Namath's crowd to go 10-0 and retain a solid chance at becoming the National Football League's first all-the-way winner in 30 years.

Last to do it were the 1942 Chicago Bears.

But, if there's any pressure, it's on New York. The Jets, 6-3, are fighting for a "wild card" spot in the NFL playoffs and

Pro Prediction: Dolphins To Win

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Miami's Dolphins won't awake from that unbeatable dream during Sunday's match with the New York Jets, especially since a victory will cause celebration of a division title under the palms.

Miami is a 27-29 choice over Joe Namath's crowd to go 10-0 and retain a solid chance at becoming the National Football League's first all-the-way winner in 30 years.

Last to do it were the 1942 Chicago Bears.

But, if there's any pressure, it's on New York. The Jets, 6-3, are fighting for a "wild card" spot in the NFL playoffs and another defeat would be highly damaging.

The Jets, with little hope of wiping out a three-game Miami lead in the American Conference East, can still reach the December showdown if their record is tops among nonwinners of AFC divisions.

Pittsburgh's dazzling Steelers are our choices to whip Cleveland 17-10 and gallop to two games ahead in the AFC Central and a giant step closer to their first championship in history.

With the running of Franco Harris, the throwing of Terry Bradshaw and a defense ignited by linebacker Jack Ham and tackle "Mean" Joe Greene, the Steelers are amid a rise that rivals that of Miami.

Elsewhere around the NFL: RAMS 23, VIKINGS 14: Minnesota is still struggling, despite a rise to challenge Green Bay in the NFC Central. The Rams must bounce back from Denver loss or face spending the playoff season at home.

RAIDERS 27, BRONCOS 21: Denver won first meet in Oakland, but Raiders—in a similar spot to the Rams—are old pros who realize the playoff stuff is getting serious.

CHIEFS 30, CHARGERS 21: San Diego will find enough mistakes to lose, despite a much improved team and Kansas City—say it again, Sam—is reaching a moment of decision with a 5-4 record this late in the year.

COWBOYS 33, EAGLES 7: World champion Dallas would risk, with a defeat, falling two games behind Washington in the NFC East. That isn't about to happen . . . especially against the Brotherly Doves.

PACKERS 27, OILERS 10: Packers are one up in a three-team division war with Minnesota and Detroit and—even if they didn't have a reason—the Pack could beat Houston. Why not? Everyone else has.

49ERS 21, BEARS 14: San Francisco has a thin hope of catching Los Angeles in the NFC West and Chicago seems to have had his fun for 1972.

GIANTS 34, CARDS 14: St. Louis rivals Philadelphia and Houston for the "Least Offensive" title in the NFL. New York slugged it out well in the Washington-Dallas division and beat Cards earlier 27-21 when St. Louis hadn't slid quite so far.

LIONS 27, SAINTS 9: It's another contender vs. also-ran situation and Detroit must not only win, but carefully since it meets the New York Jets in a Thanksgiving match five days later.

COLTS 17, BENGALS 14: An upset special. Baltimore seems to be getting it together somewhat under new quarterback Marty Domres and the Colts, while having slipped, just aren't a 2-7 team.

BILLS 10, PATRIOTS 7: Now isn't this a glamorous match? Buffalo has O.J. Simpson and that's just enough to show New England's new coach, Phil Bengtson, that the Pats are just as weak as he suspected.

REDSKINS 28, FALCONS 17: George Allen's team have an 8-0-1 record against Atlanta, but this won't be easy since the Falcons are only a half game behind Los Angeles in the NFC West. A Ram loss Sunday could ignite Atlanta.

CHS Sets Fall Sports Banquet

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will sponsor a fall sports banquet 6:30 p.m. Monday in the high school cafeteria.

The football team, cross country squad and cheerleaders will be given well deserved recognition at the affair.

The guest speaker will be Dale Strahm, linebacker and middle guard coach at Bowling Green State University.

Strahm, 29, was head football coach at Hamilton Taft High School before resigning to accept the position at Bowling Green in 1971. He is a graduate of Ohio Northern where he starred in football and track.

The dinner will be a carry in affair and everyone must provide their own table service.

SuperSonics Fined, Lose Draft Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — The Seattle SuperSonics, fined $200,000 for signing Spencer Haywood two years ago, have been given their 1973 No. 1 draft pick to the Philadelphia 76ers for signing John Brisker.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association announced the penalties Thursday, marking the first time he has stripped a team of its top draft choice and awarded it to another club.

"Seattle, in the Brisker matter, has violated the simple principle of fair play," said Kennedy in announcing his ruling. The fine is one of the largest he has levied since his authority was extended last year, giving him the power to levy fines up to $25,000.

The huge assessment against the SuperSonics' in 1970 for signing Haywood, who had jumped the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association, was not levied by the commissioner, but by the league's Board of Governors.

Seattle was permitted to keep Haywood, but had to drop all lawsuits against the league and was fined $200,000.

The SuperSonics also were allowed to keep Brisker, who signed with the ABA's Pittsburgh team in 1969, and was selected by Dallas in this year's dispersal draft after the Pittsburgh franchise was disbanded.

Cleveland Crusaders Lose Skip Krake

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Crusaders will be without right wing Skip Krake for six to eight weeks. The high-scoring forward has torn ligaments in his right knee.

Krake, 29, suffered the injury Tuesday in a World Hockey Association contest with the Minnesota Fighting Saints. He was operated on the following day. Krake had six goals and seven assists in 15 games.

DON AMECHE AND EVELYN KEYES STAR

'No, No Nanette' To Open Dec. 3

Up-to-date, yet with a look of the past, "No, No Nanette" will come to the Columbus Ohio Theatre next month with its stars Don Ameche and Evelyn Keyes and a cast of 15.

Actors, singers, dancers and musicians coming to Ohio's capital city for the Dec. 4 opening of the Broadway musical hit make it one of the largest productions to go on the road in the last 25 years. This company opened a long tour in Dallas, Texas on Oct. 6 and has broken all existing records for attendance and gross receipts at the new State Fair Music Hall in that city.

Ameche and Miss Keyes play the roles made famous in the New York company by Ruby Keeler and Jack Culford and in the Chicago company by Virginia Mayo and Dennis Day. Ann B. Davis will play the role of the bumbling maid, Pauline, done on Broadway by Patsy Kelly.

The play will run a week, Monday through Saturday. Beginning on Dec. 4 opening night, performances will be at 8:30 with the exception of 2:30 matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Mail orders will be filled in the order of receipt and tickets will go on sale at the box office Nov. 20 at 10 a.m. All mail orders should be marked "Nanette" on the envelope.

"Nanette" was first produced in 1925. It ran for a solid year in Chicago before coming in to New York where it was an instant hit. The current revival was produced in late 1970, and after a try-out in Boston and Toronto, came in to New York in January of 1971 and has been playing to capacity audiences at the 46th Street Theatre ever since.

The current revival was supervised by Hollywood director Busby Berkeley. The stage director is Burt Shevelove who has revised the book and the dances were staged by Donald Saddler, who won a Tony Award for his work on the show.

Included in the large company are Sven Swenson, Lainie Nelson, Tim Heathman, Darle Anderson, Charlene Mathies, Jeanine Moore and Elizabeth Kovacs.

Some of the familiar tunes from this musical, heard over the past 50 years are: "I Want To Be Happy," "Tea For Two" and the title song, "No No Nanette."

Barbecue originally referred to the roasting of a whole hog, ox or other large animal on a crude gridiron of stakes. Whole animals were spit on barbs to queue, or from whiskers to tail. The term barbecue comes from those French words.

Nursing Home Request For Beds Approved

Pickaway County Health Planning Council approved a request for a certificate of need made by a local nursing home for the addition of 50 beds, during its meeting held at Berger Hospital on Thursday evening.

Alfred F. Hartman, assistant director of the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation explained the work of the Council to new Council members, Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Mrs. Donald E. Hill, Mrs. Stephen Drew, Jack Mader, Paul Dean, Larry Logan and Mrs. David Bolender and Don Marquart, representing Sylvester Hartmann of RCA.

Priorities in the health area were discussed and a questionnaire on which each member noted his own preferences will be tabulated and the results announced at the next meeting. Emergency ambulance service, county-wide zoning as an adjunct to adequate sewage disposal, and the need for nursing homes which are approved for Medicare and Medicaid were discussed as high priority items for Pickaway County's health planning.

The chairman, Mrs. Sterling Poling, read a copy of a letter informing the County Commissioners that Pickaway County is to be included in the Regional Alcohol Treatment and Control Center for Central Ohio, a five county operation. The Ohio Department of Health has requested that the Mid-Ohio Health Planning Federation assist in developing the necessary procedures to implement the Norris Act, H. B. 240, which provides for these regional centers.

Mrs. Poling attended the Mid-Ohio Board of Trustees meeting on Wednesday of this week at the Fawcett Center for Tomorrow on the OSU Campus. The agenda of this meeting included a lengthy discussion of the elements of possible State legislation on Health Facility Licensure and Certificate of Need.

The next meeting of the Pickaway Health Council has been scheduled for February 15.

The Alacaluf, Ona and Yaghan Indians lived in Patagonia and Tierra del Fuego at the southern tip of South America.

JVS Names Fraas New Member Of Advisory Team

November business before the Pickaway-Ross Joint Vocational School was light, with the major part of the meeting Thursday spent in discussion of building and organizational plans.

A sixth member from Pickaway County was added to the General Advisory Committee — Dr. William H. Fraas. He joins other county members Ed Grigg, John A. Stevenson, Ned Harden, Mrs. Jeane Ankrom and Jake Bailey. The committee will meet 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Kingston board office.

Receipts from the sale of bonds were declared "interim" funds by the board and authorized for investment. Superintendent Paul Hydel notes that the board has $2,197,685 in investments.

Architects are now completing the working drawings for the school building. Discussion on the layout of the building on the Crouse Chapel Road location was okayed as proposed by the architect.

Amounts and rates of taxes for 1973, as determined by the Budget Commission were approved as: 1.2 mills for operation and .70 bond retirement.

The regular meeting of the PRJVS Board will be Dec. 21 as planned. Members will reassemble Jan. 2 for the annual reorganization meeting.

Guidance Director Raymond Pack discussed with the board the possibility of having an occupational survey made of businesses in Ross County by the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Ankrom, of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, has completed such a survey in Pickaway County which reports the nature of positions available at different businesses and industries in the area. The entire school district will undergo this survey.

Gerald Radcliffe, a board member from Chillicothe, resigned his seat at the close of last night's meeting because he was recently elected probate and juvenile judge of Ross County. The Chillicothe City School Board will be required to appoint a replacement.

Wendell Evans, of Pickaway County, was named to replace Radcliffe on the JVS building committee.
